Hi my name is Safa and I am in year 3 at North Beckton Primary School. What I like most about my school are the adults that help me to learn and improve my skills in different areas of learning. My teachers have high expectations which pushes me to do my best, especially during independent activities where they help me challenge myself. Our lessons are fun and give us a chance to learn in different ways such as in groups, outdoors and with a partner. We are lucky enough to have a large outdoor space with an Edible Playground and it has helped me understand how important nature is for my wellbeing. We even went out on a local walk for our Geography fieldwork visit and investigated how much pollution there is in Beckton. I was inspired to make a change in my community and I will encourage my family and friends at school to help with litter picking around Beckton.

I used to find it difficult to share my ideas in front of large audiences, but joining the school council and being part of Pupil Parliament has helped me build up more confidence. I recently went to Curwen Primary School to share the Pupil Parliament's plan to develop fundraising for Monkey World and I was able to speak confidently in front of children from across the TTLT Pupil Parliament group. When I grow up, I would like to be a teacher because my teachers have been such amazing role models to me and I want to be that person for other children in the future.
