achieving for all*

I came to Ranelagh in reception when the school became a Resourced Provision for children with autism. My parents and I liked that I would be in the classroom with my friends. The school has allowed me to learn and play with all children in the classroom and the playground. However, I will sometimes go out in a group to improve my communication and to learn how to wait for my turn.

Something I can now do with confidence.

I am lucky to be a pupil at Ranelagh, because I get to go clubs outside of school and also during the holidays. I am good at colouring in and to help me to develop this further, my teachers have opened up a colouring club for me and my friends.

My school makes sure that I can go on all the trips including those that will help me develop some of my life skills. Going swimming is one of the activities I really enjoy doing.

Children of Ranelagh learn creatively through music, art, drama and dance. I was part of a dance that showed how electricity flows through a circuit. We dressed up as royals in Year 2 and learned a Tudor dance.

I do enjoy listening to music and playing the ukulele in class with my friends.

All my teachers understand that I need to explore the different areas of the school and so will allow me and my buddies to play in the soft play room or the role play corner in reception.
